Union Pacific Railroad Co.

Civil Action No. 6:14-2579

Judge Richard T. Haik, Sr.

Magistrate Judge C. Michael Hill

ORDER

Before the Court is a Petition For Damages filed by plaintiffs, Laura Colomb, Shirley Williams, John Thomas, Sandra Thibodeaux, Michael Colomb, Cooke Vidite, Gabriel Owens, Merguashia Owens, Lether Renee Jones Owens, Carl Thomas, Larry Thibodeaux, Shania Colomb, Giovenni Thibodeaux, Chris Carrier, Isaac Harris, Marsha Harris, Isavior Harris, Carol Sally, Eddie Sonnier, Tremaine Sonnier and Travis Burleigh, alleging injuries resulting from the August 4, 2013 Union Pacific Railroad Company train derailment in Lawtell, Louisiana. R. 1. Plaintiffs originally filed this action in the Twenty-seventh Judicial District Court, St. Landry Parish, Louisiana. Defendant, Union Pacific Railroad Co., removed this action to this Court, contending that the parties are diverse in citizenship and the amount in controversy exceeds the jurisdictional threshold of $75,000.

Under 28 U.S.C. § 1332, federal district courts have subject matter jurisdiction over civil actions in which the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000 exclusive of interest and costs and the parties are citizens of different states. The person seeking to invoke federal court jurisdiction has the burden of proof of demonstrating, at the outset of the litigation, that the federal court has authority to hear the case. St. Paul Reinsurance So., Ltd. v. Greenburg, 134 F.3d 1250, 1253 (5th Cir. 1998). Therefore, a removing party bears the burden of showing that federal jurisdiction exists. Manguno v. Prudential Property and Cas. Ins. Co., 276 F.3d 720, 723 (5th Cir. 2002).

The removing defendant must establish that the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000 and the parties are diverse in citizenship. 28 U.S.C. § 1332. Here, the Petition establishes that the parties are diverse in citizenship. Thus, in order to remain in federal court, “the removing defendant must prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.” Gebbia v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 233 F.3d 880, 882 (5th Cir.2000).

Here Plaintiffs allege nothing more than they “were in Lawtell, St. Landry Parish, when [the train] ... derailed and spilled chemicals and other things caus[ed] injury to all the plaintiffs and they request damages for the negligent actions of the defendant....” R. 1-1, ¶ 2. Plaintiffs fail to provide any quantification of their damages any information concerning whether they sought medical treatment or the nature or cost of any such treatment. Thus, the Petition does not provide any facts that would permit reasonable estimate of Plaintiffs’ actual damages to be calculated.

Upon review, it is hardly apparent from the face of Plaintiffs’ Petition that their claims exceed $75,000.00. The injuries alleged and damages claimed are vaguely stated and provide the Court with no guidance as to the actual damages that Plaintiffs incurred. “[R]emoval cannot be based simply upon conclusory allegations.” Felton v. Greyhound Lines, Inc., 324 F.3d 771, 774 (5th Cir.2003). The various damages stated in Plaintiffs’ Petition are too speculative to provide the Court the requisite degree of confidence that the Petition, standing alone, makes out a claim for more than $75,000.00.

Thus, upon sua sponte review of Defendant’s removal materials, the Court concludes that it lacks subject matter jurisdiction because Defendant has failed to establish that the amount in controversy in this matter likely exceeds $75,000.00. Accordingly, as the Court is without subject matter jurisdiction to hear this suit,

IT IS ORDERED that the Clerk of this Court is to remand this action to the Twenty-seventh Judicial District Court, St. Landry Parish, Louisiana.

Thus done and signed this 4th day of March, 2015 at Lafayette, Louisiana.
